JOURNAL NEWS

The Journal Editor, Eugene Futato, reports that revisions to some articles scheduled for the December 1980 Journal have required more time than anticipated, but are progressing satisfactorily. The December 1980 issue will be mailed soon, and work has begun on the June 1981 issue. Short articles from the membership for inclusion in the June or December 1981 issues are invited. Submit articles directly to the Editor.

MEETING

The 58th annual meeting of the Alabama Academy of Science will be hosted by Auburn University on April 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1981. The Committee for Local Arrangements is hard at work and, if the intensity of their efforts is any indication, this year's meeting should be one of the best yet.

Just inside the entrance of Cathedral Caverns, archaeological exploration was carried on for several winters by Ed Mahan, Jay Gurley, Dr. A.G. Long and others. In the foreground is Robin Gurley, at the screen is Jackie Hodges and in the staked off area is Ed Mahan. 1956. Photo by J. Gurley.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCENES FROM AN ALABAMA CAVE

In the 1950's a large cave complex near Grant, Alabama, was being developed as a tourist attraction. This cave, named Cathedral Caverns, was up until that time known only to local residents and caving enthusiasts, but was to later become a major attraction in North Alabama. The huge entrange room of the cavern is one of the largest in the Southeast. Its archaeological potential was, and still is, tremendous. For several years, I coordinated a small scale archaeological investigation for Cathedral Caverns. Artifactual material recovered remained at the site for public display. The accompanying photographs are of scenes from this early work.

CHAPTER NEWS

Birmingham Chapter

The Birmingham Chapter meets the second Thursday of each month at the Red Mountain Museum. Call Tom Hutto for further information at 956-1895.

Cullman Chapter

Officers who were nominated and elected at the November meeting were: President: Dewitt Coleman; First Vice President: Ronald Morrow; Second Vice President: Howard King; Secretary/Treasurer: Eulis King; Newsletter Editor: Linda Moss. The speaker at the January 1981 meeting was Bart Henson from the Huntsville Chapter. Bart presented a slide-illustrated program on "Indian Rock Art of North Alabama", with comparisons with native rock art in Africa, Australia, Europe and the western United States. Approximately 40 books and papers were displayed to indicate the range of motif, style and technique throughout the world. Alabama rock art apparently has many traits in common with rock art in other parts of the world.

East Alabama Chapter

The Chapter meets on the First Thursday of each month in Thach Auditorium, Auburn University, at 7:30. For information call Dru McGowen at 821-2595.

Huntsville Chapter

Charles Moore of the Muscle Shoals Chapter was the speaker at the January 20 meeting. Charles gave a very interesting slide presentation entitled "Mounds and Other Sites in Ohio". He brought samples of Flint Ridge chert, a distinctive material from which many southern Ohio artifacts were made, for Chapter members to examine.

The Huntsville Chapter Executive Committee met in January to formulate plans for the coming year. Projects include field trips to museums and other places of interest to Chapter members. Watch for details in future Chapter newsletters.

The Huntsville Chapter meets the third Tuesday of each month in the Arts Council Conference Room, north end of the Von Braun Civic Center, at 7 p.m.

Muscle Shoals Chapter

The January meeting was held at the Florence Museum at the Temple Mound, with Amos Wright of Huntsville presenting a slide program on Mounds of the Southeast. The Muscle Shoals Chapter meets the second Monday of each month at the Indian Mound Museum in Florence at 7:15.

BOOK REVIEW

ABORIGINAL SUBSISTENCE TECHNOLOGY ON THE SOUTHEASTERN COASTAL PLAIN DURING THE LATE PREHISTORIC PERIOD - by Lewis H. Larson. University Presses of Florida; 15 N. W. 15th Street; Gainesville, Florida 32603. Price: $20 + $.85 postage.

Don't let the title of this book turn you off as just being another "dry" report on archaeology dealing with the southeast. This book by Lewis H. Larson, Professor of Anthropology at West Georgia College and a long-time specialist in southeastern archaeology, reflects the results of a well-researched effort dealing with a subject not often addressed by archaeologists, except in an occasional site report. The narrative flows easily and is very descriptive and interesting reading. It will become a standard reference on Indian subsistence for the coastal regions of Georgia, Florida and Alabama including the "pine barrens". The food used by the Indian - from shellfish, fish, reptiles, sea mammals and land mammals to plants, fruit, berries and foods cultivated - all have their place and influence on Indian life, hardly suspected until reading Larson's account of their effects on daily Indian activity and consequently their culture. For those interested in southeastern archaeology and subsistence patterns, this book is highly recommended.
